new dimensions

A futuristic interior design visualization. A person stands in the center of a dark space, surrounded by glowing blue and red lines and rectangular frames, suggesting a digital or virtual environment. The scene is illuminated with vibrant blue and red lights, creating a sense of depth and dimensionality. The overall aesthetic is high-tech and immersive.

'It has a sculptural character'

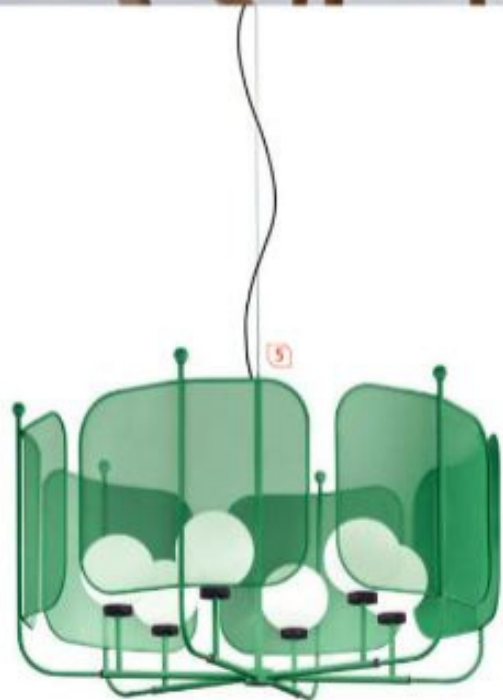

The band's back together: Barber Osgerby and Flos have collaborated again. The result is a continuation of Edward Barber and Jay Osgerby's Bellhop collection in the form of a super-sleender, nearly 6-foot floor lamp. The duo took the domed blown-glass diffuser of the line's existing table lamp and inverted it to create an LED up-light, then attached it to an aluminum pipe stem—painted Green, Chocolate Brown, White, or Brick Red—and finished it off with a round concrete base and a foot dimmer switch.

In addition to the lamps, the grouping also includes sconces suited for indoor/outdoor use. usa.flos.com ➔
